

THE GREYHOUND GAB

A Galatas Elementary Creative Writing Paper, May 2019

Love
by Daisy S.
Section 18

There's love in the world. Love in the world. Love is the crown in the world.

My Fairy Tale
by Taylor M.
Section K1

Once upon a time at the end of the rainbow lived a fairy named Violet. Violet had 5 sisters named Blue, Red, Orange, Yellow and Green. At the end of the rainbow all the fairy sisters liked to play games. There was a problem in their game one day. Violet was not brave enough to do one of her sister's games. Violet's sisters all became very rude to her. The sisters didn't think Violet was brave enough to play anymore games. So Violet ran off to play with Bobby, the bluebird. Suddenly, they ran into a giant on the other end of the rainbow. The giant had a bunch of gold he had stolen from the leprechauns. They tickled the giant so much that he dropped the pot of gold. They snatched the gold and they flew over the rainbow. But Bobby dropped the gold too! The sisters saw Violet and Bobby flying over the rainbow. They realized that Violet was brave enough after all. And they invited her to play with them. The rainbow fairies played everyday and they all lived happily ever after.

Springetti
by Cohen A.
Section K2

On Springetti I got to see Nathan and I got to go on a bounce house. I got to eat cookie cake and I got to eat pizza. And I got to see my neighbors. Springetti ☺

Mrs. Martin
by Mihir S.

My teacher is Mrs. Martin.
She makes the children happy.
She teaches, she plays, she smiles.
She helps, she reads, and she writes.

Mentos and Coca Cola
by Mihir S.
Section K6

I did a magic trick. I mixed some Mentos in Coca-Cola, and it blasted like a volcano. Try this magic trick outside with your Mom and Dad!

Best Part of Me
by Shriya V.
Section 42

My smile, my smile that shines like a birthday candle. The way it turns bright makes everyone near cheer. It is as bright as glitter which makes my smile bigger. Don't be mad about my smile because it is worthwhile. My smile is the brightest ever.

The shine, the shine, don't forget the shine. The shine that can shine like Alaskan snow. The shine that celebs wish to have. That is my smile. I am super glad.

"Flash flash" the cameras say without the camera man today. "Hooray, someone has a smile for the camera today. Finally, finally a girl with a smile. Even if it rains cats and dogs, this girl's smile is presented to all", the cameras said before they left for the day.

I might have been glum, but now I am happy. The cheer in my smile couldn't be seen more clearly. Without it people would say I was mad when happy. Don't worry anymore my dear friend. My smile is clear so you can tell I am full of cheer. Yay, yay you can say because I am happy for all today.

Teachers
by Lydia Y.
Section 18

Teachers will sometimes be silly, but they will help us learn about this and that and math and science. They read stories like The Cat and The Hat. You will learn lots of new things by the end of the school year.

Werewolf at Camp Halfmoon

by Lih-Ann V.

Section 33

Charlotte Ivy stared through the clean window of the magnificent car as she drove it through the long and busy road. Liam stared at his phone, reading long lists of stories about camp. One talked about a werewolf, but Liam didn't care, until a thought hit the daylights out of him shooting like a rocket at the speed of light. Is it true? His thoughts shook off as he spotted Elijah Harlow and Layla Harlow, who was older than Elijah. Liam and Elijah stared at the sign saying welcome to Camp Halfmoon! In little words under that it said "Home of the Werewolf! Then Liam's phone glitched and it went berserk. Then Elijah said "what is it?" Then his phone did the same.

Larry Sander, the counselor, greeted them carefully and kindly saying "Good day! Come sit by the campfire. Shhh! Don't tell big Al. He is the director of the camp. Make sure you DON'T get in Bruce's cabin! Oh! That one is tough man!" He said the last part quietly as big Al said inches away loudly in a deep voice "COLE, GENI, STANWICK, FATMITA! ALL TO CABIN RED!! WANDA, LANNY, VANYA, DANI! TO CABIN GREEN!!!! LILLY, DANNY, MINI, MARIA!!!! TO CABIN YELLOW!!! FANNA, SAFSA, LENA, GANDI!! TO CABIN PINK!! AND LAYLA, ELIJAH, LIAM, ATHENA!! TO CABIN BLUE!!

That night Layla said "Come on! Let's go to the woods." Groggily Liam said "nah.." but Layla said "last one there is a rotten egg!" Liam and Elijah couldn't afford to lose, so with a zap of energy they were the first to arrive. Soon enough Cole was in sight (If you didn't know, Cole means the six sense. Isn't it fun to put little jokes in stories!?) Cole chanted in slow breath steadily as a snail. Soon enough he saw them and said "Today is a full moon. Isn't it beautiful?" As the moon swept the whole sky, some flowers wilted in shame and some bloomed as if the sky was a master of greatness or as if it gave them life. As Layla said to Cole "Wow!" She turned her head to Cole and she screamed. The scream was so loud that Layla lost her voice for weeks! He was a monster as large as one man and an eight year old on top of him! They ran to the cabin. All was calm.....until a doll came up and said "Oh! you escaped my friend. Well, pay the price!!" and it sneaked into Layla's backpack.

The next day "E-ELIJAH?!" was heard from the car. No adventure for now.... Or is it?

Book Review: The Legend of the Bluebonnets

by Sivapraba K.

Section K6

Once upon a time there was a girl who was alone but some people were together. Every evening people would say "Jay, Jay, Jay" three times for rain. The girl who was alone had shadow friends. The shadow friends died a long time ago. The girl who was alone got a stick of fire and threw her doll into it. She said "You the great spirits want you" and the next day...The girl who was alone saw all the hills filled with blue bonnets and some rain was about to come. Everybody lived happily ever after.
